

C. David Snyder

Chairman, President and CEO

In addition to chairing the Board of Directors, Dave is responsible for the strategic direction and management of the company. He is the primary decision maker for Attevo, setting the tone for the company's values and culture. His commitment to understanding clients and delivering the highest quality of service has been fundamental to the exponential growth and success the company has seen since its inception in late 2004.

Dave has extensive corporate and entrepreneurial leadership experience. Prior to forming Attevo, he founded and served as Chairman, President and CEO of Realogic Inc., a 350+ employee technology consulting and systems integration firm, which he founded in Cleveland, Ohio in 1993. Internationally known, the firm ranked in "Inc." magazine's 1997 and 1998 list of the 500 fastest-growing companies. Realogic was acquired by Computer Associates International (now CA) in 1998.

Before Realogic, Dave held similar positions at other large corporations, including Integral Systems (President of the Midrange Division), Management Reports Inc. (President and CEO), Grant Thornton (Partner-In-Charge, Cleveland Consulting Division) and Coopers & Lybrand (Director of Information Systems).

Dave began his professional career with Arthur Andersen & Co. (now Accenture). He was also the majority owner of Snyder International Brewing Group, which owns Cleveland's Crooked River Brewing Co., Maryland's Frederick Brewing Company and Cincinnati's Hudepohl-Schoenling Brewery.

Dave is a cum laude graduate of Ohio University's College of Business. He is a member of the College of Business Executive Advisory Board and a former member of the University's Board of Trustees. Dave also serves on several corporate boards and works with various non-profit organizations.
