

David C Wilhelm

Managing Partner, Hopewell Ventures

David C. Wilhelm is founder of The Management Company and a member of the general partnership of Hopewell and Adena Ventures.

Previously, he was a Senior Managing Director of Kemper Securities. His noteworthy activities in the political arena include managing the Clinton/Gore presidential campaign in 1992 and serving as Chair of the Democratic National Committee from 1993 to 1994, which would make him the youngest person in American history to head a national party.

He also managed the successful campaigns of Senator Paul Simon in 1984 and Mayor Richard Daley in 1989 and 1991.

David is the recipient of a Bachelor of Arts degree and Honorary Doctorate from Ohio University, as well as a Master of Public Policy degree from Harvard University. He is currently a lecturer at the University of Chicago's Harris School of Public Policy.
